SCHLOSS HALBTURN Sankt Laurent 2006 among the top 50 red wines of the world (*)

The this year's Decanter World Wine Awards validated international, what already a lot of national wine experts thought: Austrian red wines are among the best of the world. Not less than 21 red wines from Austria have been awarded with either a gold-, silver- or bronze medal within the worlds largest international consumer wine competition (10.983 entered wines in total).

TOP RED AUSTRIA: SCHLOSS HALBTURN Sankt Laurent 2006

The best Austrian red wine within this competition is also the only one, which has not only been awarded with a gold medal, but also with the even higher honour, the „Regional Trophy Award“. Thus this result the Sankt Laurent 2006 from Schloss Halbturm is Austrias top red wine within the this year's DWWA and at the same time among the top 50 red wines of the world (*).

Markus Graf zu Koenigsegg-Aulendorf on the DWWA results : „We are of course very proud to have achieved this result within the largest international consumer wine competition hosted by the renowned Decanter magazine. Again our wines have caused a stir within one of the leading international benchmark tastings. In total the achieved results are verification and incitation at the same time to me: verification of our so far implemented quality structure and incitation to never produce something else than top quality wines. More than ever quality does not allow any compromise.“
